

Fantastic Home Security Systems To Protect Your House

There are many different home security systems that are on the market today, one of the most popular companies is known as Guardian Home Security. They are the official dealer for SecurTek which provides over 60,000 customers with security products. The main purpose of these alarms is to protect homes with sophisticated wireless and wired security systems.

About the Company

Guardian Home Security offers a great wide range of different security monitoring solutions. The company is proud to offer quality products with a great level of customer service. Guardian Home Security offer tasteful home security systems which are suitable for residential and commercial use windows. You can truly put your faith in this company.

What Products are offered

There are quite a few different products and services which are offered by Guardian Home Security. There is a Wireless Allegro system which is their most popular package. This includes a state of the art LCD control panel, loud siren, door and window contacts, motion sensors, keychain remote, and a battery backup in case the power ever fails.

Another package that they offer is the outdoor floodcam this comes with very powerful and impressive flood lights. If any intruders are detected the lights immediately light up the area like a runway! Sensors are installed to monitor any intruders they are great because they can cover wide areas of land without much expense.

FloodCam packages have a lot going for them. They combine X10 surveillance and motion sensor technology. This security system is quite affordable and efficient considering how capable it is. This FloodCam system would be a welcome addition to any security system, be it for home or work.

Guardian Security also offer an Xcam2 Wireless camera, this is made by X10. It's a very small unit, but it is also extremely powerful. It's very easy to install such a camera, and the maintenance required is minimal if non existent. This can be used to display live feeds direct to your TV, or record it on a VCR. The video camera has a built in wireless transmitter which can be used to easily transmit video all around your home or office.

Guardian Home Security also offers a wide range of accessories and equipment for the protection of your property. They can provide everything you could possibly need to make sure your home will stand up to burglars. They are without a doubt one of the best companies that provide home security systems.

About the Author

Kurt Schefken published almost entirely for <http://www.replacement-windows-tips.com> , an online site on garden windows . One can discover his articles on home repair and decorate bay window here. This article is available as a unique content article with free reprint rights.

Source: <http://www.diyresource.com>