

Installing Laminate Floor - A Great Diy Project

Hardwood floors can put quite a dent in your pocket. A cheaper alternative without compromising quality is discount laminate floors. This type of flooring comes at a variety of styles and tones to match any type of decor and budget range. Though they have cheaper price tags than natural hardwood floors, the laminate flooring give off the same look. Shaw Laminate flooring and Mohawk flooring are some names that manufacture floor materials of great quality.

Selecting Flooring

You will be presented with a wide range of choices while selecting discount laminate flooring. Custom designed to match any type of interior decor, ranging from the traditional early American style to modern minimalism style and all in-between, this type of flooring have a wide range of colors and texture. So it adds some thing to every room in your home.

A lot of options are available even though most laminate flooring is made to look like wood. Laminate designs on marble tiles and stones, ceramic tiles are some of the other options that are available. Selecting wood for family room, marble for living room and ceramic tiles for kitchen is a good choice. Present laminates open up a universe of endless possibilities.

Best Price available

Make sure you know what you require and want before you go to shop for the flooring and try to get the best price option. Be sure to make no mistakes in measuring the area where the flooring is to be done. What ever measure you get add ten percent to it to make room for errors while installing laminate floor and add a some more if you are opting for a particular pattern and style.

The place where you will find a varied and large store for buying flooring materials is Internet. You will find detailed and good pictures on most sites so that you know what you are ordering and be sure when you order to check that the materials are from the same number provided. The texture and finish, color varies from number to number and will become noticeable after you have laid all the tiles.

On arrival of your flooring, check it for damage carefully as the corners and edges are often damaged or get chipped. Exchange it if you find any kind of damage.

Discount Laminate Flooring Installation

It's easy to install laminate flooring and makes a great DIY project for homeowners who are handy. Install it over the existing hardwood floor or vinyl and hence doesn't need a lot of preparation. Even over concrete or wood sub floor or basement flooring concrete, you can install it.

In the fashion of tongue and groove, the pieces harmoniously fit to complete it. Unlike the installation of hardwood floor, in this case its not nailed or glued. A special type of adhesive that is specifically made and used for laminate flooring is used to keep the slots together. A floating floor is the nomenclature used to describe this type of floor. For a room average size it takes about one to two days to complete the job and thus makes a great weekend project if you are doing just one room.

About the Author

Eric Starkowski regularly publishes reports on ideas associated with cheap floors and discount floors. His articles on discount laminate flooring can be found on his site .

Source: <http://www.diyresource.com>