

Ten Reasons To Use Decorative Concrete On A Pool Deck

When it comes to summer, many people think about relaxing by their swimming pool. It can be much more enjoyable if pool deck is decorative concrete. Find out the top 10 benefits of using decorative concrete for your pool deck.

1. Stone is Not Very Cheap; Decorative Concrete is More Cost Effective

Stone is not cheap. It costs a lot to mine the stone, cut it, and then transport it to the job site. The cost in labor is also high, because stones have to be custom cut on the site. Decorative concrete is much cost effective, and if done right, it looks like natural rock.

2. Decorative Concrete Can Be Curved

One great benefit of concrete is that it can be curved to any shape. Designers love this because it opens it up to using many design concepts.

3. Decorative Concrete Can Hide Ugly White Concrete

It is really hard to remove concrete, but a decorative concrete professional can make it look like it has magically disappeared! The contractor can take and add a layer of decorative concrete called an overlay. An overlay covers existing concrete. The overlay can be made to look like natural rock or anything really.

4. Faster Installation

Concrete is available everywhere. Delivery to a site is fast and easy. In fact, concrete can be poured, stamped, and stained in same day. The ease of installation makes concrete the material of choice for most pool designers.

5. Variety of Colors & Textures

Decorative concrete is unlimited in what it can do. There is every color in the rainbow. Colors range from natural looking beiges, reds, and browns, to the more outgoing blues, pinks, greens, yellows, & purples.

6. Decorative Concrete Looks Very Natural

In today's world, people want to look they are a part of nature. That is what today's pool decks designed with decorative concrete make such an impression. Many people want to blur the lines between nature and their live in areas. They want to get close to nature, but not too far from the backyard grill. Pool decks that appear to look like naturally cut rock, gives this beauty and convenience factor all in one package.

7. The Textured Surface of Decorative Concrete Feels Better on the Feet.

On decorative concrete, you feet don't get nearly as uncomfortable as white concrete. Due to the different colors and the varied textures, it just feels more natural and cool to the soles of your feet.

8. Blends in with the Natural Surroundings

Whatever the landscape looks a lot, decorative concrete can blend in with it. The amazing ability of decorative concrete to blend with the environment makes it a wise use for most homes that want to beautifully blend with nature. The elegance of nature cannot be surpassed.

9. Customized Pool Decks

Pool designs can be very intricate. What if you want your initials or a logo in your pool deck? That kind of thing would be nearly impossible with tile or stone. Decorative concrete gives the pool designer much more flexibility in design.

10. It Is Very Durable

Concrete is very durable and decorative concrete can be very beautiful. It makes a great combination. Once in place, if done right, it is not going anywhere any time soon.
