

Cuba Twin Centre Holiday.

If you have come to read this write up I am assuming that you are interested in organizing your next trip to Cuba. Well that makes me very happy. What I intend to do in this article is to guide you through the best possible combinations of centres in order to make the most out of your experience in Cuba.

What Cuba has to offer in terms of tourism can not be found in many places in the world. This fascinating island is the biggest in the Caribbean Sea and has definitely been blessed by nature. Mountain range, large valleys, rivers and lakes and of beautiful turquoise water beaches make its geography one to enjoy. But there is more to it than its landscape. Cuba has a very unique culture, a stunning colonial architecture, and impressive history one of the most talked about political system in Latin America.

If you are considering to just relax for the most part of your holiday and then leave some days to explore what Cuba has to offer in terms of Culture then a twin centre holiday is probably what you are looking for. There are lots of possibilities and I will emphasize in this write up which in my view are the most interesting ones.

Havana and Varadero: Perfect recipe for persons who are not attracted by the idea of having to travel long hours on the road. Located only 80 miles from Havana City, Varadero can be reached in less than 2 hours. Havana, well it will where you will be doing most of your sightseeing, exploring museums, soaking up the atmosphere of the real Cuba, having a drive in a very old American Car, enjoying a Mojito or tasting a nice cigar. Varadero instead will be the place to relax and enjoy its beaches and all inclusive facilities.

Havana and Cayo Largo: This one in my opinion is a very attractive combination. You will be arriving to Havana's airport and after staying few nights in Havana you will be transferred to the airport very early in the morning to fly to Cayo Largo. Why bother taking a domestic flight? Well let me tell you that Cayo Largo has in my opinion the best and most virgin beaches out of all the beach destinations in Cuba. You can also find a wealth of wild life cohabiting with the few hotels that exists in this small island.

Havana and Guardalavaca: Another great combination. This one will allow you to explore both ends of Cuba. The east which can be explore using as a base the beach hotels of Guardalavaca is very famous for having a more Caribbean influence than Havana which is more Spanish so to say. Guardalavaca beaches are also famous for its coral reefs and the possibility to snorkel just few meters away from its shores. My favorite hotel here has to be Paradisus Rio de Oro a state of the art installation with all the luxuries you can expect from a 5 star hotel.

These are just some of the combinations you can do but the fact is that you can do dozens of them. Or you can put together as many locations as you want. We will obviously help you out deciding what is best for you and what is feasible taking into account the duration of your holidays. If you need to know more please do not hesitate to contact us.
